Office Action Summary

Art Unit: 2834

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 1-66 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as being anticipated by Atsuta, Tsukimoto or Okumura.

Each reference teaches the claimed structure, i.e. a vibration member, a driving portion, an elastic member, an electro-mechanical energy converting element, and a signal generator. It is noted that the "wherein ---" clauses merely state desired results and do not change the structure claimed. It has been held that the functional "wherein" statement does not define any structure and accordingly cannot serve to distinguish. In re Mason, 114 USPQ 127, 44 CCPA 937 (1957).

Further cited to show vibration wave motor stators are Kawai, Nishikura Takagi and Fujimoto.
